

Case Study

Mazars

Complete design and fit-out of Mazars London Bridge head office | November 2007
Value: £3.3 million

Introduction

Following a company merger, the international accountancy and consultancy group Mazars wanted to create an environment which was a great place for staff to work and created a unique and memorable experience for all clients when visiting.

Details

After a three month workplace consultancy phase, Interiors' bespoke design brand Kanvas worked with Mazars to investigate their working practices. This enabled the Kanvas designers to develop a scheme that challenged their existing culture while also providing a solution which encouraged better staff integration and communication.

Creation of a new client business centre, a reception and waiting area, a commercial grade coffee bar, open plan office environment and complete furniture and storage solution.
