GROUP

Description Leading International law firm, Bird & Bird, approached Kanvas with a complex brief; to create a new front-of-house conference suite to accommodate all client meetings and entertainment, while making the same space flexible and inviting enough to ensure Partners maximise it for internal functions.

Working closely with the client, the Kanvas team successfully constructed a state-of-the-art suite that provided Partners and visitors with a multifunctional meeting environment.

It was an essential part of the brief that the offices improved the visitor experience, with the brief calling for a space that was friendly, relaxed and attractive but that was also professional and efficient. The space also had to reflect and reinforce the Bird & Bird brand.

The successful completion of this project led to further work at another of the clients offices, refurbishing the 'back of house' office space.

Design and fit-out of a prestigious meeting and conference facility for 350 people with catering facilities, flexible technology, Fee Earners' floor, and two reception areas.
