WILLMOTT DIXON
GROUP

Description The internationally acclaimed entertainment company Miramax, opened their first European office in London, Covent Garden and partnered with Kanvas Interiors to deliver the design and fit out of the new office space.

The aim was to create a design scheme that represents the client and their industry at the same time connecting it to the building and the area of London they are now based in.

Kanvas has created a contemporary and stylish office scheme, combining loft style office with exposed brick and feature AV walls, film displays and bespoke flooring features.
